NEWS | POSTED FEBRUARY 2, 2022

2022 Call for Applications: Towards 2044: Horowitz Early Career Scholar Program

The Towards 2044 initiative was originally developed to encourage and support scholars from under-represented ethnic/racial groups from North America in pursuing graduate work in developmental science.

Towards 2044: Horowitz Early Career Scholar Program

Application Deadline: Tuesday, March 1, 2022 at 11:59PM ET

The Society for Research in Child Development is pleased to accept scholar and mentor applications for the Towards 2044: Horowitz Early Career Scholar Program.

The Towards 2044 initiative was originally developed in 1999 as The Frances Degan Horowitz Millennium Scholars Program, to encourage and support scholars from under-represented ethnic/racial groups from North America in pursuing graduate work in developmental science. With generous funding from the Wallace Foundation, the program has expanded from a one-day Biennial preconference event to a more extensive year-long program.

"Towards 2044" takes its name from the year when the adult population of the United States is estimated to become a diverse majority. SRCD is excited to support the professional development of a diverse group of researchers as we move towards this new period.

About the Program

The Towards 2044: Horowitz Early Career Scholar Program provides educational and professional development for scholars, giving them a launching point for a career in the field of child development.

The program offers:

- Mentorship to the selected scholars from more advanced researchers in the field who provide them with guidance and support in their pursuit of educational and professional goals;
- Registration fee waiver to the 2023 SRCD Biennial meeting;
- Mentorship service experience for individuals from diverse racial, ethnic, and disciplinary groups; and,
- Valuable exposure to the field for underrepresented scholars, allowing them to interact not only with their mentors, but also with other scholars and professionals criteria and required application materials

apply to be a scholar apply to be a mentor

Applications must be submitted by Tuesday, March 1, 2022 at 11:59PM ET

The Advisory Committee for the Towards 2044: Horowitz Early Career Scholar Program is led by Dr. Michael Cunningham (Tulane University) and also includes Drs. Mayra Bamaca (UC Merced) and Charissa Cheah (University of Maryland, Baltimore County).

Please note: You will need your SRCD log-in credentials to access the submission site. If you are an SRCD member and do not have an SRCD log-in, please create an account here.

Questions? For technical support of the submission site, please contact SRCD (info@srcd.org).

For questions regarding application materials, please contact Michael Cunningham (mcunnin1@tulane.edu).