Update from the SRCD Task Force on Publications and Ethical Behavior

The Task Force has been accumulating and reviewing a substantial number of relevant documents that pertain to its Scope. In addition, the Task Force has been conducting interviews with a number of individuals who have information and perspectives important to its goals.

These interviews will continue over the next two months and will include current and former journal editors, committee members, governance leaders, and staff. The interviewee list continues to grow, as the Task Force learns more from interviews already conducted. We remain focused on producing a report to the members prior to the Biennial Meeting.

Sincerely,
The members of the Task Force on Publications and Ethical Behavior
