Prof. Charles Brainerd Receives Highest Award in Field of Developmental Psychology

Prof. Charles Brainerd, human development, has been awarded the highest honor in the field of developmental psychology: the American Psychological Association's G. Stanley Hall award. He will receive this award at the APA's annual convention in August 2019. The G. Stanley Hall award is given to a single individual who has made "distinguished contributions to developmental psychology, including contributions in research, student training, and other scholarly endeavors," according to the APA website.
