NEWS | POSTED FEBRUARY 13, 2018

Call for Proposals! Developmental Methods IV, Sept. 27-29, 2018

Fourth Biennial Developmental Methods Conference

September 27-29, 2018

Grouse Mountain Lodge, Whitefish, MT

The fourth biennial meeting of the Developmental Methods Conference will be held Thursday-Saturday, September 27-29, 2018 at the beautiful Grouse Mountain Lodge in Whitefish, MT. This meeting will advance and disseminate work at the interface of developmental science and quantitative methodology.

Keynote speakers for the 2018 conference are Dr. David MacKinnon and Dr. Kathryn Lemery.

Half-day workshops will be offered by Dr. Jon Helm on Bayesian estimation in Mplus; Dr. Nilam Ram on growth modeling; Dr. Niall Bolger and Dr. Jean-Phillipe Laurenceau on intensive longitudinal methods; and Dr. Karen Nylund-Gibson on latent transition analysis in Mplus.

Submissions for the 2018 conference are due by 11:59pm PDT on Friday, March 30, 2018.

For more information about the conference and submission guidelines please visit www.developmentalmethods.org