NEWS | POSTED FEBRUARY 15, 2018

Call for Proposals: $20,000 APF Marian R. Stuart Grant

$20,000 to further research, practice, or education on the connection between mental and physical health, particularly for work that contributes to public health.

The Marian R. Stuart Grant will further research, practice, or education on the connection between mental and physical health, particularly for work that contributes to public health.

Examples include but are not limited to research-based programs that teach medical doctors counseling skills; research-based programs on the effect of behavior on health; and research-based programs on psychologists' role in medical settings for the benefit of patients.

Preference will be given to psychologists working in medical schools.

Applicants must:

- Be an early career researcher (no more than 10 years postdoctoral).
- Be affiliated with a nonprofit charitable, educational, or scientific institution, or governmental entity operating exclusively for charitable and educational purposes.
- Have demonstrated competence and capacity to execute the proposed work.

See our website for more information http://www.apa.org/apf/funding/stuart-grant.aspx

Click here to apply for this grant: https://www.grantinterface.com/Home/Logon?urlkey=apa&

The deadline for applications June 1, 2018.

APF welcomes applicants with diverse backgrounds with respect to age, race, color, religion, creed, nationality, disability, sexual orientation, gender, and geography.