NEWS | POSTED OCTOBER 15, 2018

ScienceCounts and The Alda Center Scientist Communication Survey

ScienceCounts in partnership with the Alda Center for Communicating Science, Prof. John Besley of MSU, and Prof Anthony Dudo of UT is conducting an online survey from October 15 – November 30 to assess scientists' attitudes towards science communication and engagement with the general public. This project is funded by the Kavli Foundation, Burroughs Wellcome Fund, and Chan Zuckerberg Initiative. The study is expected to yield critical new insights for social scientists and science communication practitioners laboring to provide scientists practical resources and tools that are grounded in solid data.

- More on the context and goals of the Scientist Survey
- Take the Survey

Deadline: November 30, 2018