Glasgow hosts 13th World Down Syndrome Congress

Glasgow is getting set to host the 13th World Down Syndrome Congress, a global event attended by over 1200 health care professionals, clinicians, academics, education professionals and families and people with Down's syndrome. Hosted by Down's Syndrome Scotland on behalf of Down Syndrome International (DSi), the Congress takes place at the Glasgow SEC's Scottish Event Campus between 25th-27th July.

Held every two years at different locations across the world, Congress offers a unique environment for health professionals to share experiences, best practice and learnings through a detailed programme of oral presentations, practice workshops and Meet the Expert sessions.

Healthcare providers working with children and adults with Down's syndrome, have also been invited to attend a special one day Health Symposium at the Scottish Event Campus on Tuesday 24th July. The event, organised by Down Syndrome International and advised by the UK & Ireland and US Down Syndrome Medical Interest Groups, is a rare opportunity for those who specialise in clinical practice and Down's syndrome research, to come together and consider current, important developments in prevalent medical conditions, with the aim of improving healthcare outcomes.
