NEWS | POSTED JULY 29, 2019

Request for Proposals: Science Student Groups Civic Engagement Projects

Posted on behalf of Research!America

Research!America is proud to launch their 2019 civic engagement microgrant program for student and postdoc-led science policy groups. Research!America will provide funding to groups of young scientists in activities of their design that focus on civic engagement and elevating the importance of scientific research, innovation and public health in the national conversation to increase awareness among public officials and local community leaders.

For more information, please contact Caitlin Grzeskowiak, Science Outreach Coordinator cgrzeskowiak@researchamerica.org

Eligibility and ApplicatioN Details