SAVE THE DATE!

Cornell Translational Research Summer Institute
June 10-12, 2020
Ithaca, NY

Mark your calendars for the 3rd annual Cornell Translational Research Summer Institute (CTRSI)!

Come learn from the Bronfenbrenner Center faculty's extensive experience in translational research with interactive training, discussion, and reflection on overcoming challenges in conducting research in real-world settings.

The CTRSI is ideal for early-career researchers (including advanced graduate students and post-docs) and for established investigators who wish to develop expertise in conducting research with communities, agencies, and organizations. Some scholarships are available.
